Marisol Coronado, parent of one of our past students:

“My child was struggling. He was on an Individual Education Plan, struggling in school and becoming an academic underperformer. He needed a change. I signed him up when his teacher recommended the Southeast Community Foundation tutoring program. Through the ten-week program, I saw such a change. He is more confident in school, plans to do his work, and is finally back at grade level. Tutoring was something that I thought he needed but something my family could never afford. I’m grateful to the Southeast Community Foundation for changing the direction of my kid’s school career.”
